BRYAN TO HAVE WEEK OF CARNIVAL

Wortham Shows to Play Entire Week of Nov. 29—Benefit Bryan Fire Department.

Bryan is to have a carnival again and at that the biggest and best in its history. Of course every carnival that ever stopped here had these claims, but with the Wortham shows, the attractions that are booked for the benefit of the firemen, there is some reason to believe that the statement is true.

C. A. Wortham is recognized as the leading magnate of the carnival business throughout the entire United States and particularly so in the State of Texas, where he is known as the man who put San Antonio on the map as building the biggest tented organization ever produced in that city and where he played the Fiesta San Jacinto to this year and holds the contract to play again this next spring.

Wortham Shows are, first of all, clean; that is to say, there are no objectionable features to be seen on the midway; they are full of novelty and up-to-date in every respect.

This season they have played every important date in Texas; namely, Austin, last spring for the benefit of the Pageant Committee and the flood sufferers; the Texas State Fair and the No-Tsu-Oh, Houston—an engagement that they filled last year with signal success.

There are a number of attractions with the Wortham Shows and a list of entertainments that are new to the carnival world. All of them have been the subject of much study on the part of their owner to make them as perfect as possible, so that at the present time C. A. Wortham stands without a rival in the outdoor amusement field, and without a peer as a caterer to popular taste in entertainment matters.

The C. A. Wortham Shows are booked to appear here next Monday for the benefit of the fire department and will remain in the city all of next week.

This will be the first occasion that Bryan has ever had to play the same attractions as the No-Tsu-Oh, and doubtless there will be a good gathering from the country to take in the biggest carnival and celebration that has ever been staged here.

TEXAS TEACHERS WILL CONVENE

Meeting in Corpus Christi 25, 26 and 27 to Be Largely Attended.

Corpus Christi, Tex., Nov. 27.—"Education in a Democracy" is the great central theme for the thirty-seventh annual convention of the Texas Teachers' Association, to be held in this city on November 25, 26 and 27. Secretary T. D. Brooks of Hillsboro has arranged for the operation of special trains out of Dallas, Tyler and San Antonio, and under this plan, and with attractive low rates prevailing, he believes that no less than 2,000 and possibly 3,000 teachers will attend the three days sessions.

Governor James E. Ferguson, whom the teachers in their official program have honored by referring to him as "Our Educational Governor," will be the principal speaker on the opening day of the convention. Particular interest will center in the address of his excellency as it is assured that he will speak on educational matters that he has presented at the previous session of the Legislature and of other legislation that he hopes to secure for the school boys, girls and teachers during his tenure as the chief executive.

Others who will speak on the opening day of the convention will be W. F. Doughty, State superintendent of instruction; B. B. Cobb superintendent of the Waco schools, and Roy Miller, mayor of Corpus Christi, who will welcome the teachers.

The speakers at the general meeting on Friday, November 26th, will include J. L. McBrien, extension agent bureau of education, Washington, D. C.; Dr. W. A. Davis of the Texas State Board of Health, J. P. Kimball, superintendent of the Dallas public schools; P. W. Horne, superintendent of the Houston public schools, and H. J. Waters of Manhattan, Kansas, president of the Kansas Agricultural College. Sectional meetings will be held throughout Friday and Saturday.

The University of Texas banquet will be given at the Nueces Hotel on the evening of Friday, November 25. The Reunion banquet of Southwestern University will be given at the Nueces on the same evening. A reunion dinner for the graduates of the State Normal Colleges will be given on the same evening. Members of the other universities and schools of the State are arranging social affairs for the three days of the convention.
